2. Spring semester in Cannes (February 7-June 3)
Cannes is the pearl of the French Riviera. Known for its beautiful beaches, tourist attractions, and its world-acclaimed International Film Festival, it is the sister city of Beverly Hills. Several museums are located in this area which has been the home of famous artists since the 19th century. It is conveniently located within 20 miles of the Nice-Côte d'Azur International Airport, one hour from Monaco and Italy, and within a two-hour drive of ski resorts in the Alps.

Beautiful sand beaches, a breathtaking panorama, and the old part of the city with its fishing harbor and medieval castle.
The Collège International (http://www.french-in-cannes.com) was founded in 1931 and is affiliated with the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS), hosting students from universities all over the world. It has a full-fledged campus with modern residence halls, well-equipped classrooms, a language lab, library, dining hall offering excellent French cuisine, café, Internet access, fitness room, theatre, and all the modern amenities. It is located across from the beach and within two blocks of the public library. Students have the option to live in the dorms or with a family; they may also rent a small apartment.

The Collège faces the beach and offers beautiful grounds.

The program is organized and directed by Dr. Marie-Christine Koop, Professor of French, former Department Chair, and past President of the American Association of Teachers of French, who will accompany the group. Students will receive 15 credits in French through a combination of transfer credits from the Collège International and UNT classes taught by Dr. Koop. In addition to language proficiency, the focus of the program will be French culture and professional French with courses like Professional French (FREN 3090) and Contemporary France (FREN 4310). Course offerings will be flexible enough to accommodate all students regardless of their major, level, or background in French. Students who have an advanced proficiency level in French may have the opportunity to participate in an unpaid professional internship during their stay. Classes will be nicely complemented by numerous cultural activities, optional visits and excursions in Cannes and the French Riviera throughout the semester. Students may travel throughout France or Europe during Spring Break.

Students at any level may enroll in the program. Students who have completed FREN 1020 (second semester of college French or the equivalent) before departure will be able to complete 2040, 2050, and a minor in French, while the students who have completed at least FREN 2040 (third semester of French) prior to 2014 will earn both a minor in French and one course toward the Certificate in Professional French through the program. Credits will also apply toward a French major or double major in French.

Program costs: to be announced. Scholarships available. Preregistration with UNT Study Abroad Office: date to be announced. Final details and costs available in late Spring 2015. Course registration and payment schedule: to be announced.
